

Comments by participants for online Faculty Development Programme in 2020

“It was a real programme and so lively we got submerged into it as if it was a live in person programme at NIBM”

“It is overall a nice programme. The programme has enriched through new learning and there are lot of key points I derived from the programme. Course contents, materials, lectures and co-ordination were excellent. Level of engagement were very good and there were lot of good learning through andragogy. You never felt it is an online training programme, the atmosphere and level of engagement in the programmes were similar to classroom training apart from lush green and beautiful campus of NIBM”

Online Programme Faculty Development Programme for Bank Staff Training College Faculty for Effective Training

March 24 – 26, 2021

(Online course duration 10 hours)

Coordinator

Dr Kaushik Mukerjee

Associate Professor

(Strategic Planning, Marketing and Control Area Group)

National Institute of Bank Management
Pune, India

Background

The Reserve Bank of India has recently published the report by the 'Committee on Capacity Building' highlighting the importance of building skills and competencies of bank officials. The training systems in the banks need to play a pivotal role in ensuring appropriate knowledge dissemination and capacity building. In this respect, the role played by the faculty in the staff training colleges is very crucial. The faculty should be equipped to offer effective training programmes with the help of suitable training design and appropriate pedagogy.

The captioned programme will focus on training competencies and has been specially designed for faculty members in Staff Training Colleges and Regional Training Centres of banks. The programme will enable faculty members to develop mastery over training methods, training need analysis, training evaluation, lecture planning, case teaching, etc.
