Programme on Enhancing Leadership Skills for Controlling Heads

In order to facilitate the proper functioning of banks with a branch banking system, the banks have set up zonal/regional offices/circle offices. This system ensures adequate monitoring of branches. Meanwhile, these controlling offices of banks and financial institutions are under tremendous pressure to improve their performance. In fact, the performance of a bank depends very critically on the performance of its zonal/regional offices. The management of such offices has to look at the changes in financial markets in general and the banking sector in particular and identify business opportunities and threats. Particularly, they require to focus on business growth, improving profitability and productivity and creating a suitable organisational structure. This must be analysed against the backdrop of Basel III norms, implementation of risk management system, and the emerging competitive market environment. Keeping this in view, it is proposed to organise this programme for senior and top executives in charge of controlling the offices of banks and financial institutions.

Teaching Methodology

Apart from lectures, various teaching methods including group discussions and case discussions will be employed to make the programme highly participative in nature. Participants will be required to make a presentation on a 'success story'.

Target Group

The programme is specially designed to suit the newly identified zonal/regional/circle heads of commercial banks and financial institutions including the second-in-command at these offices in senior and top management cadres (Scale IV, V and VI).

Objectives

- To provide a broad and contemporary perspective of issues related to macro-economics, challenges in banks, organisational effectiveness, HRM, business planning and strategy for growth.
- To identify business opportunities and threats on account of competition, extensive use of information technology and regulatory changes.
- To understand implications of Basel III norms as well as risk management on the banking industry and role of controlling offices in effective management of resources for competitive advantage.
- Work as an entrepreneur.
