Conference on Credit Management

The global economy as well as the Indian economy are on revival path and it augurs well for the credit markets. Besides, India has a stable government at the centre and it has initiated several measures for the inclusive development of the economy. Notable initiatives are demonetization towards a cashless economy, digital India movement, Make in India, Startup India, Standup India, Jan Dhan Yojana and so on.

The Indian banking and finance industry has been experiencing many far-reaching developments in the recent past including entry of new players such as small finance banks, payment banks, new universal banks, emergence of online platforms for lending, advancements in financial technology, digitization and automation of lending process. These developments aside, the Indian banking industry has been also experiencing rising NPAs and consequently fall in profitability and erosion in capital. Another significant development is that new banks and NBFCs in the country are growing from strength to strength and are increasing their market share. As such, lending institutions in the country will have to change the rules of the game.

Objectives

Given the backdrop, the Conference will provide a platform to deliberate on the current developments, opportunities and challenges before the lending institutions and to set the way forward.

Target group

Heads and senior executives of credit verticals of commercial banks, NBFCs, MFIs, and other lending institutions.
