Advanced Programme on Corporate Lending and Financial Services

Background

The financial sector in India is in a process of rapid transformation. Reforms in financial markets have brought innovations in money, capital and derivative markets which brought a significant change in the financial management of large & medium size companies. They have been given access to raise funds from domestic as well as international markets. Driven by these reasons, the wholesale or corporate banking market is undergoing an unprecedented level of change. This is further driven by increase in the cross border transactions and the liberalization of banking regimes. Banking is now a truly global business and banks are grappling with the opportunities and complexities, against the backdrop of lower margins, and more expectations from corporate customers. It is essential for credit analysts and others who are involved in delivery of financial services, to understand developments in financial markets and emerging trends in corporate banking and financial services industry so as to assess its impact on corporate banking business and corporate financing pattern. This will help them to optimize yields from their corporate banking business and cross selling of various financial services to them. Keeping this in view, an advanced programme
