Case studies allow the learner to understand the conceptual ideas and theoretical knowledge to be applied to practical, real-world business environment. It helps the learner to develop problem-solving and decision-making skills. Therefore, case method has been one of the most powerful methods of imparting training.

Lending is more of an art than science and hence it is a highly complex activity. The art and science of lending can effectively be transmitted to participants through real life cases.

The faculty of staff training colleges of banks are training practitioners and hence are expected to have working knowledge of case method, both case writing and case teaching

Objective

One major objective of the programme is to equip the participants with necessary skills for using case method for training. The participants will also be trained to write cases and teaching notes.
