Programme on Marketing Strategies for MSME Business

The Micro Small and Medium Enterprises (MSME) sector in India today is a network of 51 million enterprises contributing 37.5 per cent of India's GDP, providing employment to 117.1 million persons. It contributes to 45 per cent of manufacturing output, and about 40 per cent of exports directly or indirectly. Recognizing the potential of the sector, both Government of India and Reserve Bank of India have been laying substantial emphasis on means to energize the sector. Government schemes like Pradhan Mantri Mudra Yojana, Standup India, Make in India, etc., clearly indicate the significance attached by Government and RBI to the sector. Budget 2017 has provided further boost to growth of sector by doubling the lending target under PMMY, to Rs. 2.44 lakh crores. Traditionally MSME segment across the world has been facing credit access constraints, and in India according to fourth census of MSME, close to 96 per cent of MSME were dependent on informal sources. In addition to initiatives like Small Finance Banks establishing targets for banks to strengthen lending, RBI has reiterated the need for development of new products, providing advisory and increasing the pool of trained human capital to effectively develop this very important sector.

Banks in turn are designing products, revamping processes and establishing specialized MSME branches and loan processing hubs.

In this context the programme has been designed to strengthen the Banks' initiatives towards developing the MSME portfolio. The uniqueness of segment in terms of diversity, product expectations and service needs, demands the marketing initiatives to be streamlined accordingly.

Equipping the managers at all levels and particularly those handling the MSME portfolio with credit, marketing and relationship management skills in addition to understanding the dynamics of the vibrant MSME ecosystem and customer needs will be helpful to banks in increasing their share in the segment.

Objectives

- To understand the MSME banking in the context of emerging opportunities and challenges
