Programme on Lead Bank Scheme: Preparation and Management of District Credit Plan for Inclusive Growth

The Lead Bank Scheme (LBS) was formulated by the Reserve Bank of India in 1969 and stands out as a unique model for the upliftment of neglected sectors of the country, particularly the rural areas, through banking services. The designated banks were made key instruments for local development and entrusted with the responsibility of identifying growth centres, assessing deposit potential and credit gaps, and evolving a coordinated approach for credit deployment in each district, in concert with other banks and other agencies. The High Level Committee (2007-08) of the RBI felt that the Lead Bank machinery is critical for ensuring that banks and the state governments work together to achieve inclusive growth focusing on sustainable financial inclusion and development.

Over the period, the LBS underwent significant changes in its strategies, approach and coverage. From the year 2014 onwards even all districts in metropolitan areas have been brought under the fold of the LBS with the objective of providing an institutional mechanism for coordination between government authorities and banks. PMJDY is the biggest and most comprehensive financial inclusion initiative in the world which is also operationalized through LBS. It is a national mission of financial inclusion to ensure access to financial products and services in an affordable manner.

The three new social security schemes have brought insurance and guaranteed pension within the reach of the common man. For the first time, all the schemes are to be channelized through banks and all benefits also will flow through banks. As a consortium leader, the Lead Bank Manager (LDM) would coordinate with banks, government departments/officials and other stakeholders such as NGOs, MFIs and so on in planning and formulation of the District Credit Plan.

The vertical and horizontal linkages of LDM will help in synergizing efforts to achieve district plan priorities within a stipulated time period. In this context, the Programme aims to enlighten the participants about the Lead Bank philosophy and scheme focusing on scientific skills for preparation of the District Credit Plan, its monitoring and to sharpen their managerial skills and leadership towards inclusive growth.
